

BASIC UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN OPEN-SOURCE AND THE FREE SOURCE SOFTWARE.

Title
Basic understanding on free And Open source Software.

Post settings
Labels
Separate labels by commas
No matching suggestions

Published on
2/2/22 6:06 PM

Permalink

Location

Options

Content:

A) Describe Open-source software with an example?

:- Open source is a different type of software. Which available for the user to use openly like, copy, alter, etc. But open source are not free so the terms and conditions are applied to before use the licenses grant the computer user to work with it. In simple terms, Open source is a computer software which released under license and gives the access to the user to collaborate with it.

example; Windows, linux, ubuntu, mysql, sql, etc.

B) Describe Free-source software with an example?

:- Free source is that you are freely licensed to use the software without any restriction. And it is free no subscription charge we have to pay like open source which provides paid subscription.

C) Differentiate between open and free source.

:- Open source

A type of a software.

allow all functions related to software.

paid subscription

needs licensed

Windows, ubuntu, mysql, sql, etc.

Title
Basic understanding on free And Open source Software.

Post settings
Labels
Separate labels by commas
No matching suggestions

Published on
2/2/22 6:06 PM

Permalink

Location

Options

Content:

C) Differentiate between open and free source.

:- Open source

A type of a software.

allow all functions related to software.

paid subscription

needs licensed

Windows, ubuntu, mysql, sql, etc.

:- free source

A type of a software.

free subscription

may need license

allow all functions

can be pirated